

Standard Communication:

Subject Line: CORE – A National Operator Resource and Industry Focused Cause

CORE: Children of Restaurant Employees (@COREgives) is a national non-profit dedicated to providing financial relief to food and beverage operations employees with children when either the parent or their child faces a life altering health crisis, major injury, death of the employee, spouse or child, or the loss of home or restaurant workplace due to a natural disaster.

(Insert organization name) is honored to partner with a national non-profit that provides a valuable resource to food and beverage service employees with children. Founded by members of the beverage industry who wanted to give back to operations employees with children who serve us every day.

Foodservice or beverage service operations employee with children that work in the U.S. may be eligible for a CORE grant. A CORE grant may help cover rent/mortgage, utilities, medical supplies, and other essential needs that a family might find necessary to navigate their specific circumstances. Each grant is unique and tailored to meet the applicants' needs and documentation is required.

CORE also serves as an industry focused cause. They provide turnkey assets and resources for operators and suppliers to raise funds to help employees in our industry. They also conduct the Fall Serving Up Hope campaign to raise the critical funds needed. To learn more about CORE, visit www.COREgives.org or reach out to info@COREgives.org.
